

UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
HOUSTON DIVISION

IN RE:	§
	§
ORGANIC FUELS, LTD.,	§	CASE NO. 10-30778-H3-7
	§	(Involuntary)
Alleged Debtor.	§

ORIGINAL ANSWER TO INVOLUNTARY
PETITION AND REQUEST FOR HEARING

To the Honorable Leticia Z. Paul,
United States Bankruptcy Judge:

Organic Fuels, Ltd. (“OFL”) files its original answer to the Involuntary Petition filed by Vopak Terminal Deer Park, Inc., Vopak Terminal Galena Park, Inc., Neal Construction Company, Inc., Bay Area Industrial Contractors, Ltd. and Tankco Services of Texas Corp. (collectively, the “Petitioners”) and request for hearing.

Original Answer to Involuntary Petition

1. With respect to Allegation No. 1, OFL denies that each of the Petitioners are eligible under 11 U.S.C. § 303(b). First, the amount of Vopak Terminal Galena Park, Inc.’s claim, as set forth in the Involuntary Petition, does not agree with OFL’s books and records. On information and belief, certain payments and credits have not been applied. In addition, because the Involuntary Petition does not state the amount of Bay Area Industrial Contractors, Ltd.’s claim, OFL cannot determine whether such claim is subject to a bona fide dispute. OFL admits that the other Petitioners are eligible under 11 U.S.C. § 303(b).

2. OFL admits Allegation No. 2.

3. OFL admits Allegation No. 3.a.

Request for Hearing

4. OFL is continuing to investigate this matter and evaluate all options. OFL requests that the Court set a hearing to consider whether entry of an order for relief is proper and/or whether conversion of this case to chapter 11 is appropriate.

5. Accordingly, OFL requests that the Court (i) set a hearing to consider the entry of an order for relief and/or conversion to chapter 11; and (ii) grant such other relief as is just.

Dated: February 22, 2010.
